The Board of Directors is responsible for the appropriateness and effectiveness of the risk management process.

Foreign exchange risk

10. Foreign exchange risk is the risk that the value of financial instruments will fluctuate due to changes in foreign exchange rates and arises when future commercial transactions or recognised assets or liabilities denominated a currency that is not the Company's functional currency. The Company is exposed to foreign exchange risk mainly arising from investments in exchange traded funds (ETFs) and cash and cash equivalents denominated in United States Dollar (US$). As at 30 June 2026, the Company's exposure to US Dollar amounted to €2.690.444.

11. The Company is not applying any hedge accounting for foreign exchange risk. Management monitors the exchange rate fluctuations on a continuous basis and acts accordingly.

Price risk

12. The Company is exposed to securities price risk due to the investments held and classified on the interim statement of financial position as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss and as at 30 June 2026 amounted to €14.500.434. The Company is not exposed to commodity price risk.

13. To manage its price risk arising from investments in securities, the Company diversifies its portfolio. Diversification of the portfolio is done in accordance with the limits set by the Company's Board of Directors. The Company does not apply any hedge accounting for price risk.

Cash flow interest rate risk

14. The Company's interest rate risk arises primarily from cash and cash equivalents which as at 30 June 2026 amounted to €449.246. These expose the Company to cash flow interest rate risk as they are carried at variable rates. The Company's management monitors interest rate fluctuations on an ongoing basis and acts accordingly.

Credit risk

15. The Company's credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents.

16. Cash and cash equivalents are held in financial institutions in Cyprus and their external credit ratings are presented in note 6. The Company assesses, on an individual basis, its exposure to credit risk arising from trade and other receivables. If counterparties are independently rated, these ratings are used. Otherwise, if there is no independent rating, management assesses the credit quality of the counterparties taking into account the credit history.

Liquidity risk

17. Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company may not be able to generate sufficient cash resources to settle its obligations in full as they fall due or can only do so on terms that are materially disadvantageous.

Apollo Global Equity Fund of Funds Variable Capital Investment Company Plc

18. The Company seeks to provide investors with consistent absolute returns primarily through investing in highly liquid listed instruments such as ETFs. The resulting portfolio is therefore expected to be relatively liquid and diversified. In normal market conditions the Company's assets will be comprised of 'liquid' assets, meaning that assets can be easily purchased or sold. However, in some circumstances there is a risk for some investments to become relatively illiquid making it difficult to acquire or dispose them at the prices quoted on the various exchanges. Therefore, the Company may not be able to sell assets to meeting the redemption requirement or may only be able to sell the assets at a price which negatively affects the Net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares of the Company.

19. In order to manage the Company's overall liquidity, the Management Company, subject to prior CySEC approval and the conditions laid down in the UCITs Law, may temporarily suspend the redemption or the conversion of shares if this is deemed to be in the best interest of all unit holders and for a period not exceeding one month. The Company did not withhold any redemption or implement any suspension during the period ended 30 June 2026 or 31 December 2025.

Custody risk

20. The Company is also exposed to operational risks: custody risk.

21. Custody risk is the risk of loss of securities held in custody occasioned by the insolvency or negligence of the custodian. Although an appropriate legal framework is in place that seeks to eliminate the risk of loss of value of the securities held by the custodian, in the event of its failure, the ability of the Company to transfer securities may be temporarily impaired.

Capital risk

22. The capital of the Company is represented by the net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares. The amount of net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares can change significantly on a daily basis, as the Company is subject to daily subscriptions and redemptions at the discretion of shareholders, as well as changes resulting from the Company's performance. The Company's objective when managing capital is to safeguard the Company's ability to continue as going concern in order to provide returns for shareholders, provide benefits for other stakeholders and maintain a strong capital base to support the development of the investment activities of the Company.

Future developments of the Company

23. The Board of Directors does not expect any significant changes or developments in the operations, financial position and performance of the Company in the foreseeable future.

Results

24. The Company's results are set out in pages 7 and 8. The net profit for the period is transferred to net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares.

Dividends

25. During the period ended 30 June 2026, the Board of Directors of the Company did not propose or approve dividend distributions. The Company's management does not intend to distribute dividends out of the Company's results, given that management is oriented towards achieving attractive returns to investors through their investment in redeemable shares of the Company, so that they are able to redeem part or the whole of their investment without incurring any Cyprus tax liabilities. The Board of Directors therefore recommends the reinvestment of the Company's results and therefore no dividend is paid to the holders of redeemable shares.

26. The Board of Directors, however, reserves the right to issue an interim dividend or to propose the payment of a final dividend at any time. The General Meeting will determine the amount of the final dividend upon recommendation of the Board of Directors of the Company within the framework of the legal and statutory limits. The Board of Directors will determine the dates and methods of payment of dividends, as well as the manner of announcing the payment of dividends to the shareholders.

27. In no case, can dividend distributions be made if this will lead to a reduction in the net assets attributable to the holders of redeemable shares of the Company below the amount of €200,000, which is the minimum capital required by UCI Law.

28. Dividends that are not claimed within a period of five years from the date of commencement of their payment shall be forfeited and shall be returned to the Company. No interest shall be paid on a dividend declared by the Company and held by it at the disposal of its beneficiary.

Board of Directors

29. The members of the Board of Directors at 30 June 2026 and at the date of this report are shown on page 1. All of them were members of the Board throughout the period ended 30 June 2026.

Operating environment of the Company

War between Russia and Ukraine

In response to the military operation of Russia in Ukraine, a number of sanctions have been imposed on Russian entities to restrict them from having access to foreign financial markets, including removing access of several Russian banks to the international SWIFT system.

The EU, UK and US (amongst others) have also imposed sanctions against the Russian central bank, restricting the access of the Russian state to foreign currency reserves, and introduced further asset freezes against designated individuals/entities and sectoral sanctions.

The situation is still evolving and further sanctions and limitations on business activity of companies operating in the region, as well as consequences on the Russian economy in general, may arise but the full nature and possible effects of these are unknown.

Nonetheless, the Company is not significantly impacted from the conflict, as its operations are not directly affected by the situation, however, it will continue monitoring the situation and take action if required.

Israel - Gaza conflict

The Israel-Gaza conflict has escalated significantly after Hamas launched a major attack on 7 October 2023. Companies with material subsidiaries, operations, investments, contractual arrangements or joint ventures in the War area might be significantly exposed. Entities that do not have direct exposure to Israel and Gaza Strip are likely to be affected by the overall economic uncertainty and negative impacts on the global economy and major financial markets arising from the war. This is a volatile period and situation, however, the Company is not directly exposed. The Management will continue to monitor the situation closely and take appropriate actions when and if needed.

Geopolitical situation in Middle East

On 28 February 2026, the geopolitical situation in the Middle East escalated due to the armed conflict. The situation has created heightened uncertainty in international relations and financial markets, with potential implications for global trade, energy supply, and overall economic stability.

Although the conflict is taking place outside Cyprus, it may have indirect effects on the Cypriot economy, given its openness and reliance on international trade, tourism, shipping, and financial services. Potential consequences include volatility in energy and commodity prices, disruptions in global supply chains, fluctuations in foreign exchange and capital markets, and heightened uncertainty in sectors such as tourism and transport. The extent and duration of these effects remain uncertain and cannot be reliably estimated at this stage.

i) Financial risk factors (continued)

• Market risk (continued)

Cash flow interest rate risk

Exposure

The Company's interest rate risk arises primarily from cash and cash equivalents. These expose the Company to cash flow interest rate risk as they are carried at variable interest rates.

Sensitivity

As at 30 June 2026 and 31 December 2025, if interest rates on cash and cash equivalents had been 10% higher/lower with all other variables held constant, this would not have a material effect on the Company's post-tax loss.

For banks and financial institutions, the Company has established policies whereby cash and cash equivalents are held with independently rated parties with high credit quality. This policy enables the Company to reduce its credit risk significantly.

(ii) Impairment of financial assets

The Company has one type of financial asset that is subject to the expected credit loss model:

- Cash and cash equivalents

The impairment methodology applied by the Company for calculating expected credit losses depends on the type of financial asset assessed for impairment. Specifically:

- For trade and other receivables the Company applies the simplified approach permitted by IFRS 9, which requires lifetime expected losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the financial assets;
- For all other financial assets that are subject to impairment under IFRS 9, the Company applies the general approach – three stage model for impairment. The Company applies a three-stage model for impairment, based on changes in credit quality since initial recognition. A financial instrument that is not credit-impaired on initial recognition is classified in Stage 1. Financial assets in Stage 1 have their ECL measured at an amount equal to the portion of lifetime ECL that results from default events possible within the next 12 months or until contractual maturity, if shorter ("12 Months ECL"). If the Company identifies a significant increase in credit risk ("SICR") since initial recognition, the asset is transferred to Stage 2 and its ECL is measured based on ECL on a lifetime basis, that is, up until contractual maturity but considering expected prepayments, if any ("Lifetime ECL"). If the Company determines that a financial asset is credit-impaired, the asset is transferred to Stage 3 and its ECL is measured as a Lifetime ECL.

ii) Impairment of financial assets (continued)

Significant increase in credit risk. The Company considers the probability of default upon initial recognition of asset and whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk on an ongoing basis throughout each reporting period. To assess whether there is a significant increase in credit risk the Company compares the risk of a default occurring on the asset as at the reporting date with the risk of default as at the date of initial recognition. It considers available reasonable and supportive forwarding-looking information. Especially the following indicators are incorporated:

- internal credit rating
- external credit rating (as far as available)
- actual or expected significant adverse changes in business, financial or economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant change to the borrower's/counterparty's ability to meet its obligations
- actual or expected significant changes in the operating results of the borrower/counterparty
- significant increases in credit risk on other financial instruments of the same borrower/counterparty
- significant changes in the value of the collateral supporting the obligation or in the quality of third-party guarantees or credit enhancements
- significant changes in the expected performance and behaviour of the borrower/counterparty, including changes in the payment status of counterparty in the group and changes in the operating results of the borrower/counterparty

Macroeconomic information (such as market interest rates or growth rates) is incorporated as part of the internal rating model. The historical loss rates are adjusted to reflect current and forward-looking information on macroeconomic factors affecting the ability of the customers to settle the receivables. No significant changes to estimation techniques or assumptions were made during the reporting period.

Regardless of the analysis above, a significant increase in credit risk is presumed if a debtor is more than 30 days past due in making a contractual payment.

Default. A default on a financial asset is when the counterparty fails to make contractual payments within 90 days of when they fall due.

Write-off. Financial assets are written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovery. Where debt financial assets have been written off, the Company continues to engage in enforcement activity to attempt to recover the receivable due. Where recoveries are made, these are recognised in the interim statement of comprehensive income.

The Company's exposure to credit risk for each class of asset subject to the expected credit loss model is set out below:

Cash and cash equivalents

The Company assesses, on an individual basis, its exposure to credit risk arising from cash and cash equivalents. This assessment takes into account ratings from external credit rating institutions and internal ratings, if external are not available.

The gross carrying amounts below represent the Company's maximum exposure to credit risk on cash and cash equivalents as at 30 June 2026 and 31 December 2025:

	30 June 2026 €	31 December 2025 €
Cash and cash equivalents (Moody's) A3	449.246	401.539

The estimated loss allowance on cash and cash equivalents as at 30 June 2026 and 31 December 2025 was not material. All cash and cash equivalents were performing (Stage 1) as at 30 June 2026 and 31 December 2025.

- Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company may not be able to generate sufficient cash resources to settle its obligations in full as they fall due or can only do so on terms that are materially disadvantageous.

The Company seeks to provide investors with consistent absolute returns primarily through investing in highly liquid listed instruments such as ETFs. The resulting portfolio is therefore expected to be relatively liquid and diversified. In normal market conditions the Company's assets will be comprised of 'liquid' assets, meaning that assets can be easily purchased or sold. However, in some circumstances there is a risk for some investments to become relatively illiquid making it difficult to acquire or dispose them at the prices quoted on the various exchanges. Therefore, the Company may not be able to sell assets to meeting the redemption requirement or may only be able to sell the assets at a price which negatively affects the Net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares of the Company. The Company's financial liabilities are due within 12 months and their carrying amount equals their contractual cash flows as the impact of discounting is not significant.

In order to manage the Company's overall liquidity, the Management Company, subject to prior CySEC approval and the conditions laid down in the UCITs Law, may temporarily suspend the redemption or the conversion of shares if this is deemed to be in the best interest of all unit holders and for a period not exceeding one month. The Company did not withhold any redemption or implement any suspension during the period ended 30 June 2026 or year ended 31 December 2025.

(ii) Operational risks

• Custody risk

The Company is also exposed to operational risks: custody risk.

Custody risk is the risk of loss of securities held in custody occasioned by the insolvency or negligence of the custodian. Although an appropriate legal framework is in place that seeks to eliminate the risk of loss of value of the securities held by the custodian, in the event of its failure, the ability of the Company to transfer securities may be temporarily impaired.

(iii) Capital risk management

The capital of the Company is represented by the net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares. The amount of net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares can change significantly on a daily basis, as the Company is subject to daily subscriptions and redemptions at the discretion of shareholders, as well as changes resulting from the Company's performance. The Company's objective when managing capital is to safeguard the Company's ability to continue as going concern in order to provide returns for shareholders, provide benefits for other stakeholders and maintain a strong capital base to support the development of the investment activities of the Company.

(iv) Fair value estimation

The table below analyses financial instruments carried at fair value by valuation method. The different levels have been defined as follows:

- Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1).
- Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices) (Level 2).
- Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs) (Level 3).

The following tables present the Company's financial assets that are measured at fair value at 30 June 2026 and 31 December 2025:

Financial instruments in level 1

The fair value of financial instruments traded in active markets is based on quoted market prices at the interim statement of financial position date. A market is regarded as active if quoted prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, industry group, pricing service, or regulatory agency, and those prices represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis. The quoted market price used for financial assets held by the Company is the market price at the close of business on 30 June 2026 and 31 December 2025 respectively. These instruments are included in Level 1.

7 Critical accounting estimates and judgements

The preparation of the condensed interim financial statements requires the use of accounting estimates which, by definition, will seldom equal the actual results. Management also needs to exercise judgement in applying the Company's accounting policies. Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

(i) Significant accounting estimates and assumptions

The Company makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results. The estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are discussed below.

- Income taxes

Significant judgement is required in determining the provision for income taxes. There are transactions and calculations for which the ultimate tax determination is uncertain. The Company recognises liabilities for anticipated tax audit issues based on estimates of whether additional taxes will be due. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recorded, such differences will impact the current and deferred income tax assets and liabilities in the period in which such determination is made.
